

14 days in Germany

This is a journey through the centuries. Time wise we will remember the traces from the Romans by their monuments in Trier, the Middle Ages starting with Charlemagne and his cathedral in Aachen and the castles along the Upper Middle Rhine Valley, the times of the Reformation in the cities of Martin Luther Eisleben, Eisenach and Wittenberg, the period of the Baroque and Rococo by the Palaces of Augustusburg and Falkenlust in Bruehl as well as by the residential town of Dresden, the period of the Classicism and persons like Goethe and Schiller in Weimar, and finally the modern Germany in cities like Frankfurt and Berlin.
